Description:

Walkie Talkie Market Analysis

Walkie Talkie Market is predicted to touch USD 7.12 billion at a 8.5% CAGR between 2020- 2030, reveals the current Market Research Future (MRFR) report. The walkie-talkie is a professional wireless communication tool that is utilized for the business and law enforcement sectors because of the potential benefits such as immediate connectivity and reliability, security protocols, rugged structure, and capability of withstanding the harsh conditions are the primary factors of Walkie Talkie market growth. On the other hand, the expanding number of market verticals such as Aerospace, defense, law enforcement sectors, industries, construction sites, airports, seaports, and other personal utilization during trekking, mountain climbing are presenting lucrative opportunities for the overall growth of Walkie Talkie market.

The advancements and integration of advanced technologies are the primary growth stimulating factors for the walkie Talkie market growth. The technologies and features such as Wi-Fi, rugged touch screen, Long term evolution technologies are driving the Walkie-talkie industry growth.

COVID 19 Analysis:

The Pandemic has hit several industrial sectors massively, the economic condition of the countries was also declining throughout the pandemic. However, the conditions are now recovering recently. The medical sectors were deploying Walkie Talkie on their premises to ensure cleanliness. Moreover, the demand for fast communication was increasing in those crucial sectors during the pandemic. Therefore the Walkie Talkie industry growth is highly influenced by the demand for fast communication.

On the other hand, the businesses and industrial processes were shut down and therefore the number of security threats was increasing due to lack of a regular workforce, such factors have also impacted the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie industry during the pandemic.

Market Dynamics:

Market Drivers:

The potential benefits of Walkie Talkie such as Cost-effectiveness, Choice of handsets, ease of usage, durability, safety features, and service during emergencies are propelling the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie industry. The digital handsets offer features such as an emergency call button which is linked to the building alarm system, which is not present in cellular phones. Such factors are highly required in the business and any kind of industrial unit. Such potential benefits of the walkie Talkie are driving the overall growth of Walkie Talkie industry.

The business security is improved by deploying the walkie-talkies in the work area. The advancements in the technology, reliability, and security personnel with the walkie-talkie have efficiently performed in reducing the number of potential threats which are the growth-stimulating factors of Walkie Talkie industry. The growing security threats and other demands for effective communication are stimulating the Walkie Talkie market growth.

Market Opportunities:

The increasing number of Wi-Fi connections and the prevalence of smartphone networks are increasing the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie market. On the other hand, the demand for fast communications in schools and educational institutions has been increasing in recent years considering the security threats in such areas. Such factors are impacting the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie market.

The walkie-talkie which is capable of covering the wide spectrum and the advancements in the technology integrated into the walkie-talkie allows long-distance communication and facilitates the speed and clarity in the communication. Such factors are offering robust opportunities for the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie market. On the other hand, the increasing usage of Wi-Fi connections and the usage of Cellular networks are also presenting lucrative opportunities for the overall growth of Walkie talkie industry.

Market Restraints:

The rising price of the Walkie Talkie device is considered as the primary restraining factor of the Walkie Talkie industry.

Some of the leading smartphone manufacturers such as Apple Inc. have disabled the walkie-talkie app because of the vulnerability for a security threat. Therefore the presence of security and privacy issues is expected to hinder the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie industry.

Market Challenges:

The weaker bandwidth and the interruption due to the obstacles are some of the factors that affect the quality of communication. The blocking of the signals getting absorbed affects the communication quality which is considered as the major challenge for the Walkie Talkie industry growth.

Battery lives and the poor design to withstand the harsh temperatures and conditions test the durability of the device. Moreover, the failure of one of the devices destroys the communication line. Such factors are considered as the major challenge for the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie market.

Cumulative Growth Analysis:

The growth of the Walkie Talkie industry is highly influenced by the potential advantages of the device, which includes the immediate establishment of the connection with a press of the button which is not the case with cellular phones. Therefore the walkie-talkies are utilized in the crucial departments and business sectors where connecting speed is crucial. The capability of eliminating the noise sound and withstanding the vibration, severe temperature sturdy built and wet conditions, are some of the factors that propel the business sectors and other end-user applications to utilize the walkie-talkies in their business processes. The market value of the Walkie Talkie industry expected to reach USD 5,263.16 million at a 10.14% CAGR between 2020- 2026.

Value Chain Analysis:

The Walkie talkies in recent years are integrated with advanced technologies and touch screen displays. The built of the walkie-talkies are designed to withstand the harsh environment. One of the leading market players, Motorola has introduced the MOTOTRBO Ion which is considered as the business-ready communication device with broadband data facilities with Android platform and full multimedia capabilities. Some of the features include market-leading audio, longer battery life, antennae redesigned for efficient dependability, WiFi, Bluetooth, with device, application, and data security protocols, and is certified to use in hazardous areas. Therefore the walkie-talkie can be utilized in the business and manufacturing areas. Such advancements in technology are stimulating the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie market.

Commercial walkie-talkies are considered a reliable way for communicating business processes and are suitable for several institutions. The business sector utilizes walkie-talkies for group communication and doesn't require the other people on the communication line to wait for the connection to be established. Therefore the walkie-talkies are highly preferred for carrying out the business event, construction sector, police, security, and other crucial sectors. Such beneficiary factors are considered as the major driving factors of the Walkie Talkie industry.

Segment Overview:

Based on type:

- Analog

Based on Ownership:

- License-free
- Licensed

Based on End-User Applications:

- Aerospace
- Defense
- Consumer/personal usage
- Law enforcement
- Security
- Enterprise and commercial
- Others

Regional Analysis:

Market experts estimate that the growth of the Walkie Talkie market will be increasing in North America. In the year 2019, the market value of the Walkie Talkie market was at USD 961.64 million and was holding a market share of 37.78%. The increasing utilization of walkie-talkies in law enforcement and other crucial sectors is further stimulating the overall growth of Walkie Talkie market in the region. Some of the growth-stimulating factors include the rising prevalence of smartphones and effective communication plans, non-requirement to purchase a license, and other government initiatives that are impacting the overall growth of the Walkie Talkie market in the region.

Asia-Pacific region is also expected to have a steady growth in the Walkie Talkie market owing to the increasing number of market vendors, increasing demand in the military forces, and expansion of other retail sectors which are increasingly utilizing the Walkie Talkie for effective business continuity.

Competitive Landscape:

- Midland Radio Mossy Oak
- Hytera Communications Corporation Limited
- YAESU, Wintec Co., Ltd
- Uniden Holdings Corporation
- Shenzhen HQT Science and Technology
- Kirisun Communications
- TAIT Communications
- ICOM Inc
- JVCKENWOOD Corporation
- Cobra Electronics
- Garmin Ltd
- Motorola Solutions.

Recent Developments:

In the year 2021, one of the leading market players, Kickstarter has launched the noise-canceling walkie-talkie radio which is equipped with DSP chips and therefore the device creates a copy of the noise which is then digitally erased before reaching the receiver. Therefore the device is considered to provide clearer communication even in the noisiest environment.

In the year 2021, one of the leading market players Vodafone quarter has launched its Push-to-talk plus device which is designed to be used by dispersed employees and therefore suitable in the construction, ports, airports, stadiums, and malls for security purposes. The device is highly scalable and flexible in terms of compatibility with android devices and offers nationwide coverage.
